All bid documents can be accessed through PGI's SharePoint site, the link to which can be found in the accompanying email. If addendums and additional documents are issued, they will also be uploaded to this site. PGI will issue additional notifications if new documents are added.

As a potential subcontractor to PGI, your proposal must be based on:

- Performing the work under terms and conditions of PGI's Standard Subcontract Agreement which incorporates the flow-down provisions of the prime contract. A copy of this proposed subcontract is attached. If any changes are desired, please return a redline with your proposal.
- The complete scope of work, amendments, Q&A documents, and other documents issued for the project.
- Client construction documents, specifications, plans, permits, etc.
- Project drawings.
- Project construction schedule.

Additionally, Subcontractor must:

- Read, review, and understand all documents issued with this RFP, and incorporate the same into their proposal.
- Be qualified through ISNetworld and must have a grade of an "A" or have been issued a variance.
- Abide by PGI and Client safety requirements and programs, including drug and alcohol testing.
- Comply with the PGI QA/QC Program, including documentation and audit requirements.
- Meet any required DOT Operator Qualification requirements for covered tasks that are part of Subcontractors scope of work.
- Comply with any other Client or project requirements, including environmental restrictions.
- Comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

PGI will negotiate terms of the Prime Contract with the client. The form of subcontract, as provided, will be executed between PGI and the successful subcontractor. The subcontractor must accept that the terms of the Prime Contract will 'flow down' into their subcontract without revision or amendment and execute their work accordingly. By submitting a proposal, subcontractor agrees to the provisions of this request for proposal.

All information exchanged between PGI and Subcontractor shall be treated as strictly confidential and shall be used only for purposes of preparing a proposal for the above referenced project.
